Great Cyclone Sweeps Over Danish West Indies, Wrecking Ships and Making Many Thousands of People Homeless

DANISH WARSHIP AND TEUTON STEAMERS DRIVEN ASHORE

Unable To Withstand Hurricane Force of Gale and Pounding of Waves Vessels Go To Their Doom On the Rocky Coast

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

ST. THOMAS, Danish West Indies, October 12.—A warship belonging to Denmark, two steamers of the Hamburg American line, and the Danish bark Thor were wrecked and thousands of persons in this city, and on the islands of St. Croix and St. John, were made homeless by a cyclone which raged over the whole island group from Monday night until Tuesday morning.

The great storm swept down upon the buildings of this city tearing many of them from their foundations and smashing many others. Indeed the majority of the houses on St. Thomas were damaged more or less by the typhoon.

Great Waves Roar Inland

On the island of St. Croix the harm done by the gale was increased by the tremendous seas which were thrown far inland by the force of the wind. Great breakers washed ashore, inundating large tracts of land, sweeping buildings away, and engulfing others.

Vessels Drag Anchors

The first of the wrecked vessels to come ashore was the Danish government dredge St. Hilda, which was literally blown on the rocks of the beach and smashed into splinters.

Not long after the wind rising higher and higher in the mean time, and the anchors which had held the Hamburg American steamer Calabria began to drag. A few moments after the anchor of the Wagenwald gave under the wind pressure and she also began moving beachward.

It was not long before the Danish bark Thor, anchored in the harbor of St. Thomas, also began to give ground and the three vessels plunged towards the shore.

Steamers Refugee Ships

The two German steamers had been refugee ships since the outbreak of the war and they had only watchmen and the captains on board. Captain Hansen of the Wagenwald did all that he could to safeguard his vessels but it was in vain. The Calabria is commanded by Captain Molchin. He also was unable to save his ship and she went on the rocks not far from her sister liner. She will be a total loss.

The Danish warship Anholt made a gallant fight to keep off shore, but the wind and the sea proved too much for her.

This examination will be held this month in Brandenburg. Those men who have been found medically unfit for the service also have been ordered to report for examination.

WEST VIRGINIANS CHEER FOR HUGHES

Abandonment of Americans in Mexico An Abandonment of Party Pledge

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

CHARLESTON, West Virginia, October 12.—Candidate Hughes brought cheers from a West Virginian audience last night when he denounced the Democratic abandonment of the Baltimore platform, especially that plank which declared that it would be the policy of the party to insist upon the rights of Americans abroad.

The callous treatment of the Americans in Mexico, where they had gone in the pursuit of their proper business, by the American state department under Secretary Bryan was certainly a direct abandonment not only of the specific promise of the party made in its platform, but an abandonment of the traditional American policy, said Mr. Hughes.

Deliberately Forced War

So far as keeping the country out of war by submitting to the outrageous treatment of Americans by Mexican bandits of all factions, the President had deliberately forced the country into war and for the purpose of satisfying a private vindictiveness against Huerta.

When President Wilson made the threat that he would force the unseating of Huerta, was that a declaration of peace, or a declaration of war? he asked his audience.

"War," came back the shout of the crowd, which broke into cheering.

His Own Master

In an afternoon address, made at Charleston, in this State, Mr. Hughes announced that he was an untrammeled candidate, under pledge to no factions or persons as to his conduct of the Nation's affairs. "I have made no agreements with anybody in this campaign," he said, "and I am free to do as I please."

"I stand for American rights throughout the world, without fear or favor," he said.

CANADIAN TROOPS AT CALGARY RIOT

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

CALGARY, Alberta, October 12.—Following fierce rioting last night between Canadian soldiers from the concentration camp near here and the Northwest Mounted Police, the city is now completely in the control of the soldiery. The police were driven back to their barracks, despite the assistance attempted by the militiamen.

After a short siege the soldiers stormed the barracks, smashed in the doors and windows and took possession, completely wrecking the building. During the fighting the Mounted Police fired upon the rioters, this so infuriating the soldiers that they set fire to the barracks after capturing it.

This is the second outbreak in Calgary on the part of the members of the Canadian Overseas Forces, who are assembled in training camp on the outskirts of the city. The first rioting took place some months ago, the soldiers breaking out when a report was circulated that a rathskeller proprietor, with a German name, had discharged all his waiters who happened to be returned Canadian soldiers and had replaced them with slackers.

The soldiers wrecked the rathskeller and then marched through the streets, tearing down all signs that appeared to them to indicate German or Austrian ownership. In case of protest they wrecked the buildings as well.

NO 'WABBLING' PEACE POSSIBLE FOR ALLIES

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, October 12.—In moving for a new vote of credit in the House of Commons today, Premier Asquith said: "This is no time for faltering counsel or wavering purpose. This war cannot be allowed to end in some patched, precarious, dishonouring compromise masquerading under the name of peace."

"No one desires to prolong the tragic spectacle, but we owe it to those who died so to conduct affairs to prove that their supreme sacrifices have not been unavailing."

BOSTON BATTLED A THIRD WIN FROM WORLD SERIES RIVAL

In Game Which Did Not Rise Above Average the Brooklyn Take Short Score

PLAYERS HAVE $39,333 TO DIVIDE HOWEVER

Twenty-one Thousand Fans Saw Home Run Gardner Perform His Stunt Again, Scoring Three

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

BROOKLYN, October 11.—Out-hitting Brooklyn two to one, the Boston Red Sox took the fourth game of the world's series by the easy score of six to two, yesterday. The manner in which the Red Sox tore into the Robins from the very first left little doubt that they are eager to end the series as soon as possible. The game yesterday was not up to the standard of preceding games in the series; in fact, it did not rise above the regular season contest. The Brooklyners were erratic, their pitching staff hit hard, and the play in general was far below that shown in the first two games.

Leonard, pitching for Boston, was a trifle wobbly at times, and it was through the efforts of Manager Carrigan, behind the plate, that he held up in the pinches.

Hard-Luck Brooklynians Brooklyn can be called the "hard-luck" club, for every break went against them in yesterday's contest. Imagine a game where every ball hit to the outfield fell in safe territory, with but one exception. This is an unusual occurrence; in fact, nothing of the kind has ever been recorded in any previous world's series. The Dodger gardeners had just one lone putout, with eleven balls sent into the outfield.

The Robins' pitchers outpitched "Dutch" Leonard on a number of occasions, but his twirling did not occur in the proper places. Leonard succeeded in leading only three Dodgers away from the plate via the strike-out route, while his opponents in the box caught eleven men to strike out.

Last Share For Players The players received their last share in yesterday's game. The rule is that after four games, the players cease to participate in the finances. The total player's share is $162,927, which is divided sixty-four.

The attendance yesterday was 21,603 and the receipts $72,840. The player's share was $39,333; the club's $13,111, and the share of the commission $7284.

Entente Allies Send Greece Ultimatum Demanding Her Navy

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

LONDON, October 12.—The entire Greek fleet with the exception of the cruiser Averoff and the two battleships Lemnos and Kifis has been demanded by the Entente Allies.

An ultimatum to this effect was forwarded to the Greek government at Athens yesterday afternoon by Vice-Admiral Dufournet, commander-in-chief of the Allied fleet.

The ultimatum states that the demands upon Greece are made in order to protect the Allied fleet and if possible to insure its safety.

A further demand is also made upon Greece, that she turn over to the complete control of the Allies the Piraeus-Larissa railway.

RAILROAD STRATEGIC LINE

The railroad from Piraeus to Larissa is the line that traverses Greece from her biggest seaport to Larissa, which is on the old frontier and served to transport Greek troops in the Balkan wars. The Greek navy was reorganized in 1900, and since 1911 a British naval mission has been superintending the training and organization of the fleet. The principal vessels under the Greek naval flag, with the exception of those mentioned in the despatch, are the Spetsai, launched in 1889, 5000 tons, three ten inch guns, speed, seventeen knots; Hydra, launched 1889, 5000 tons, three ten inch guns, speed, seventeen knots; Paana, a sister ship to the other two; Solamias, launched 1914, 19,500 tons, eight fourteen inch guns, five torpedoes, speed, 24 knots.

In addition to these there are four ten destroyers, seven modern torpedo boats, five old craft reconstructed, and two submarines.

The cruiser Averoff, which was acquired through the bequest of a Greek millionaire of that name, who left his fortune for the improvement of the Greek navy, was launched in 1910, is of 16,118 tons, mounts four 9.2 inch guns and has a speed of 24 knots.

The two battleships mentioned were purchased from the United States government. The Lemnos was the battleship Idaho and the Kifis was the battleship Mississippi.

ITALIANS STRIKE AUSTRIANS HARD EAST OF ISONZO

Batter Their Way Through Teuton Lines Southeast of Gorizia

MOVING STEADILY ON TOWARDS GOAL AT TRIESTE

Report They Have Broken Through Austrian Defense In Several Places

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

ROME, October 12.—Italy, after waiting for more than two months, has struck once more at the Austrian lines east and southeast of Gorizia, smashing them in several places and capturing 5000 Austrian prisoners.

The official report of the resumption of the Italian offensive and the success that attended it was issued by the Italian war office yesterday afternoon, and it added that the advance of the Latin troops is continuing toward Trieste, the goal towards which Italy has been striving ever since her entry into the war.

The first step in the new attack was a heavy artillery bombardment upon the Austrian positions east of the Sotz River and on the Gorz plateau, where the Austrians halted their retreat after the capture of Gorizia last summer.

Many of the strongly fortified positions held by the Teutonic troops were stormed and taken in the first rush of the Italians, who report that their columns have pierced the Austrian lines in a number of segments between the River Vipava and Hill 398.

The chief advance was made south and southeast of the Gorizia where the Austrian line is reported to have been badly broken, with the Italians streaming through the break.

TO AID RUMANIANS

The resumption of the offensive by the Italians has been predicted for some time. Indeed a few weeks ago Italy did strike a number of minor blows, but with apparently little power behind them. Military experts then said that she was waiting to see what effect the entry of Rumania into the war was going to have, and began to question the control of the Allied general staff over the armies of all the powers of the Entente.

The news from Dobruja and Transylvania has undoubtedly led to the attack against the Austrian lines at this time, when, according to recent reports from that sector of the great battle front the weather has been anything but favorable for military operations of late.

Correspondents writing to mainland papers within the last ten days have however intimated that the failure of the Rumanian campaign would probably force Italy and the other western allies to begin active attempts to call back some of the men that German and Austrian commanders have been hurling against the Rumanian forces in the Transylvanian Alps.

In addition to this most probable object Italy also appears to feel that her own work has been made easier by the reported reduction of the Austrian armies in the Isonzo districts. That the Austrians have been withdrawing troops for the eastern fight has been asserted by numerous despatches from many neutral sources such as Amsterdam and Geneva.

FOOD SUPPLY FOR SERB VICTIMS LOW

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) BELGRADE, October 12.—The supplies of food for the Serbian victims of the war will be exhausted by the end of November, and the work of the American Red Cross will then have to come to an end.

This statement is made in a formal announcement issued yesterday by Doctor Edward Stewart, head of the American Red Cross work in this city. Doctor Stewart says that the entrance of the Rumanians into the war made it difficult for the American commission to get further supplies, but that the lack of response to the appeals made to the people of the United States is responsible for the breaking down of the relief work.

BOOZE BACKERS IN MISSOURI YELL WELL

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

ST. LOUIS, Missouri, October 12.—Prohibition speakers are having a difficult time in securing a hearing for their arguments in the Eastern Missouri towns. Defiant opposition to these speakers is being shown and the cause of national prohibition is being plained the situation.

"No one can blame me if the young woman has changed her mind. That's the prerogative of every woman," Aranda did not like it and he threatened to sue the fair one for breach of promise and to include his false friend in the suit for alienating his fiancée's affections. The Philpino left Coster finally, vowing retaliation, but just against whom no one seemed to be able to learn. When last seen he was looking for Attorney Elbert J. Batts.

Despatches from New York, Rhode Island received here today say that the Spanish steamer Antonio Lopez wrecked in today that she has found five abandoned ships' boats in good condition, which suggests that these may possibly be traces of the crew of the British steamer Kingstorian, believed to be abandoned after having been torpedoed by a German submarine off Manhattan.

The naval authorities, believing that further search is useless, have called in the destroyers which were combing the seas.

COMPERS NAMED ON BOARD OF ADVISORS

President Makes Public Appointments While On His Way To Indianapolis

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)

ON BOARD PRESIDENTIAL SPECIAL TRAIN, EN ROUTE TO INDIANAPOLIS, October 12.—The President last night made public the appointments of the following advisory commission which is to be associated with the council for national defense, which is headed by Thomas Edison, the inventor.

Daniel Willard, Samuel Compers, Dr. Franklin H. Martin, Howard E. Coffin, Bernard Baruch, Dr. Hollis Godfrey and Julius Rosenwald.

The appointments will take effect immediately.

In a statement accompanying the announcement of the appointments, Mr. Wilson said: "This commission marks the entrance of nonpartisan engineers and other professional men into governmental affairs. I hope that the body I have just formed will become a rallying point for all civic bodies which are working for national betterment and progress. The body is non-political in personnel."

GERMAN SOCIALISTS SPOKE FOR HUMANITY

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) AMSTERDAM, October 12.—After a session barren of the expected sensational developments, the German reichstag adjourned yesterday. The one feature of the closing session was an attempt on the part of the Socialists to enter a protest against the continued use of submarines against passenger ships, an attempt that was squelched by the majority.

Before adjournment a bill was passed prolonging the life of this reichstag until January 12.

GERARD DENIES GERMANY SENT MESSAGE BY HIM

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) NEW YORK, October 12.—Ambassador Gerard, American representative in Berlin who is in this city on a vacation, last night flatly denied reports that he has returned to this country to serve notice upon the President that Germany intends to repudiate her pledges not to resume her "frightful campaign" with her underwater raiders. Mr. Gerard declares that there is not a hint of the truth in the rumor.

Correspondents writing to mainland papers within the last ten days have however intimated that the failure of the Rumanian campaign would probably force Italy and the other western allies to begin active attempts to call back some of the men that German and Austrian commanders have been hurling against the Rumanian forces in the Transylvanian Alps.

In addition to this most probable object Italy also appears to feel that her own work has been made easier by the reported reduction of the Austrian armies in the Isonzo districts.
